

My Gift to You

Before I begin, I have to give you a head's up. I'm going to mention a plethora of information in this short essay, so, please use it as a reference. When you're surfing the web—do people say 'surfing the web' anymore?—anyways, you may think "Is that really true" or "I know what I believe, but...hmmm," feel free to investigate anything that interests you. It's your right as a thinking person.

A few years ago, someone said to me that you needed to be a mathematician to figure out how the world works. I said, "[Expletive] that!" (Hint: The word began with an "F.") I continued, "No, you don't. Anyone with an average IQ can figure it out. It's actually quite simple, really. It's the same patterns, tactics, and sometimes, even the same people are involved! Anyone can learn, think, & question."

I hope this essay invites & incites you to question, learn & think.

I've amassed a storehouse of knowledge over the years and my gift to you is to share it.

We live in a world of great tumult and increasing complexity. A hurried world of money, jobs, careers, kids, and so much more. A kaleidoscopic maze of crime, wars, poverty and indifference. Baffling inflation and decreasing incomes affect our lives. It sometimes becomes difficult to comprehend. We're constantly bombarded by information, most of which, is propaganda. And all we want to do is live. To live freely, safely, and lovingly. But those who rule the world won't allow that to happen. These simple wishes do not profit them. They control our lives 24/7/365.

I've figured out how and why the world works the way it does. It's simple. Here's my original quote:

The Few need Some in order to control the Many.

But only the Smidgen knows this.

I'll elaborate.

The Few: They are Capitalists, International Bankers, Oligarchs, Plutocrats, and Zionists. Or were; Aristocrats, Monarchs, Industrialists, Fiefdoms, Religious Leaders, and Chinese & Japanese dynasties.

The Some: There are two groups; Singulars and Entities. Singulars like; Spies, Agents, Trolls, Jackals, Mind Controllers, Provocateurs, Saboteurs, Sayanim, Operators, Handlers, Lobbyists, Bureaucrats, etc. And Entities like; Religion, Media, Government, Education, Law Enforcement, Military, the Legal system, Public Relations, Think Tanks, etc.

The Many: That's everyone else.

The Smidgen: They come from the other three tiers. They're people who understand how the world really works. And they often try to tell us. People like: John M. Perkins (in his book, "Confessions of an Economic Hit Man"); Major General Smedley Butler (in his book, "War is a Racket"); Jamie Johnson (of Johnson & Johnson fame, in his documentaries, "Born Rich" and "The One Percent"); Martin Luther King Jr. (from his, "Beyond Vietnam" speech); and Miko Peled (in his book, "The General's Son"). Thankfully, there are many, many more.

Throughout history, the Few have felt it's their duty to rule. They believe they are adorned by: Nature, Brawn, Brains, God, god, gods, or a combination. It makes them feel entitled. And because of that, the Many have always suffered for it.

But the Few need the Some to do the dirty work. And the Some's job is quite simple: To control us. They control how we feel, what we think, and how we act.

And the Some do this by employing various tricks; Spreading rumours, Blackmail, Threats, Intimidation, Bribery, Toying with Emotions, being Obsequious, and of course, Violence.

Labels are attached to those who question the "Official Story." Here are some words they use to discourage us from Critical Thinking: Anti-Semite, Conspiracy Theorist, Kook, Nutjob, Rabble-Rouser, Communist, Socialist, and Troublemaker. Plus a few other nasty words that would kill a person's reputation. One begins with a "P."

Their actions serve the interests of the Few. It does sound laughingly simple, though, doesn't it? And it actually is. But it is profoundly and strangely true.

Think "Cui Bono?" It's Latin for "To Whom (is it) a benefit?" Or simply, "Who benefits?"

Here are some examples:

Wars. Pick a war. Any war you want. Study it and see for yourself. Query: "Cui Bono?"

Diabetes & obesity in children from wealthy Western nations run rampant while famine-ridden children suffer in the Third World. This is a sin. Now ask, "Who benefits?" Eighty percent of all food production in the world is owned by a small group of corporations.

On our money, it may say, "Bank of Canada" or in the US "Federal Reserve Note" or "Bank of fill in the countries' name here", but it doesn't matter. ALL the world's currency is owned by a Global monopoly.

Wonder how a bigoted Trump, or a Black Obama, or a grade-C student Bush could be President? The Few pick 'em. Then they allow us to choose between the lesser of these two evils. But wait, there's more! The US' Electoral College supersedes the popular vote. That's right! The popular vote—the public election—ends up meaning nothing! And here's a bit of extra info; there are NO real democracies anywhere in the world! Not one! Quick Greek: "Demos" means people and "Kratos" means power. Now, go & find a true democracy.

Look at Canada's failing National Healthcare system. Tommy Douglas would've wondered "What's the point!" Canada has had to jump through the same hoops as other countries. The WTO/IMF/World Bank rules specify that countries must gut their social programs, cut any barriers to trade & give free reign to investors.

The Few and the Some direct the following: Bankrupt Countries, "consumer confidence", "merchant marines," Regime Change, "Arab Spring," The Contras, Free Market, "disappeared persons," "enhanced interrogation," Privatization, Tribal War, Sectarian violence etc.

Study the "Bad Guys" and follow the money to see the Few's power: Adolph Hitler, Manuel Noriega, Pol Pot, Saddam Hussein, Idi Amin, Osama bin Laden, Khalid Sheik Mohammad, Augusto Pinochet, Hugo Chavez, Muammar Gaddafi, Suharto. Who are the benefactors?

Here's a brief list of the Few's worldwide power, influence, & their diversionary tactics:

- The appearance of protecting society through security while they winnow our collective rights away.
- George W. Bush Jr. pulling out of the Kyoto Agreement as he-and many other politicians-defend many Corporations' polluting practices.
- The link of the Central Bankers to the assassinations of Abraham Lincoln, John F. Kennedy, William McKinley, James Garfield, and the attempted assassination of Andrew Jackson. And there are many others throughout history.
- Drugs: both legal and illegal.
- Public-Private partnerships in Healthcare & Welfare (and it's not just in Canada, either.)
- The historical use of False Flags and the tactic of Problem, Reaction, Solution (PRS).
- The ad infinitum attack against Islam & Muslims. Zionist Jews are behind this fear-mongering. BTW, most terrorism is NOT done by Muslims, especially 9/11.
- Here's a goodie: The police are not legally obligated to protect you.
- Most terrorism is committed, enhanced, or patsies used by an alphabet soup of worldwide Intelligence Agencies: Mossad, RCMP, FBI, CIA, BOSS, MI5, 6, & 7. Al Qaeda = CIA. ISIS = Mossad. Daesh = CIA/Mossad.
- A little-known fact: 80% of all ads are owned by only four Global Holding companies.
- The development, continuation & spread of Mind Control, Neuroweapons, Electronic Harassment and Organized Stalking that are used against us.
- Most people believe that crime is out-of-control but statistics from the last 25 years tells an opposite story. The media makes you think you're gonna get jacked the second you go outside. T'ain't true.

- The massively subsidized Fossil Fuel & Nuclear industries constantly bedevils our health & environment. The Few, & their minions, vehemently disparage Green energy because (wait for it) they can't own the wind or the sun!
- Multinational mega-corps own most of the world's media: movies, books, radio, & TV.
- Mass consumerism and a boom-bust economy that sickens us and ruins our planet.
- Fears: Nazis, Neo-Nazis, Killer Bees, Scarcity of rice, Scarcity of Disney's "Dumbo" on whatever new medium, The Christian Right, Blacks, Gays, Guns, Crime, The Dalits, (AKA "the Untouchables"), The Roma, (AKA "Gypsies"), Immigrants, "The Trenchcoat Mafia," the Mafia, Dictators, Cybercrime, SARS, MARS, Communism, Socialism, etc∞.

The Few wants us to hunt the paper tiger, chase the scapegoat and fear the boogeyman.

They need us to shop, to be drugged, to blame the blameless, to be happy-happy-happy, to be forever distracted, to always feel like it's out of our hands and to feel like it's our fault.

There are so many excellent books, documentaries and websites out there with solid evidence to support my essay but, the best thing we can do is...think...question...study...& learn.

Belief kills thought; Critical Thinking kills belief.

WE must control our food, our energy, our money, our products & services. Any solutions we embrace must satisfy these criteria. Solutions to counter the Few must: usurp their power, lessen their control, and reduce their wealth.

The way the world is, isn't the way it's supposed to be. I think we intuit that. Let's let our intelligence and empathy instruct our lives. We ARE capable of changing the world. I just know it. Hey, I'm doing my part right now.

So, make merry and have a happy!!
